I think he's doing ok. He had an MRI today which I think was probably for the mass in his bladder. I don't think the doctors know yet whether or not it's cancerous. Also, it's kind of you to ask how he's doing, it means a lot and shows that you care :)

It went well. I know the mass was cancerous, but the results for it will probably be in on Monday, so we'll know how to move forward from there
